TOOLS USED DURING THE APPRAISAL

Jewellers loupe

A loupe is a small magnifying glass that can be used to inspect details of the gemstones. It is available in 10X, 20X and 30X.

Calipers

A caliper is a tool used to precisely measure the dimensions (length, width and depth) of gemstones. Depth is critical in the weight estimation process.

Leveridge gauge

A leveridge gauge is used by jewellers, appraisers and cutters to determine the girdle diameter and the depth of mounted and unmounted gemstones and pearls. It also helps determine the thickness of the ring, or item of jewellery.

Optical measuring device

An optical measuring device uses various light sources to measure features that are too small or fragile to be measured by touch (such as a gemstone).

DISCLAIMER

The articles described above have been examined and the values given are an expression of our opinion. Unless stated otherwise, gemstones have not been removed from settings for accurate assessment and all grades and weights are approximate. Whilst all care has been taken in making this assessment, no liability is accepted other than the person to whom the certificate is given for any errors or omission, including any liability to any person by reason of negligence. The values given are for insurance purposes only unless otherwise stated. Values expressed are in Australian dollars and based on current market conditions. Q Report provides the software to format and generate this document but has in no way given an opinion or determination on the values attached to this appraisal or valuation. The values provided are the opinion of the signatory.
